Lillian Jimenez

CST 3606

Spring 2018

UnBiasedVote

2018 February 19

OVERVIEW

These are 10 test cases which describes user actions and their expected outcomes for the project UnBiasedVote.

USER ACTION	EXPECTED RESULTS
User types in unbiasedvote.org	The browser loads the home page
User clicks on one of the title bar page categories – • Election Dates • Politicians information • Financing in Politics • Popular talking points	The landing pages for the selected link is loaded. Election dates and politicians – have three categories federal, state, local Popular talking points- list of talking points possibly with links to politicians opinions? This may be biased Financing in politics – search by locale or by politician
User clicks on About Us, Blog link, Transparency Policy	User is taken to the pages for those links
User searches for federal election information under the election dates page	The API is accessed and the information is used to display in the webpage

	Displays the upcoming and relevant dates for relevant information, such as voting dates  and possibly links to the pages for politicians running in the elections
User searches for their state election dates	The API is accessed and the information is used to display in the webpage Displays the upcoming and relevant dates for relevant information, such as voting dates  and possibly links to the pages for politicians from their state
User searches for their local election dates	The API is accessed and the information is used to display in the webpage Displays the upcoming and relevant dates for relevant information, such as voting dates  and possibly links to the pages for politicians in their locale
User searches for their politicians by a locale search	The web app asks by drop down menu for state then local, then accesses the API to retrieve info for politicians for the area
User clicks on social media links (icons)	The browser takes them to the appropriate social media account
User clicks on funding in politics page	User is taken to a search page with links for federal state and local searches, under these are static pages which have the logos of corporations which have donated to each politician, with a picture and a link for their page in the site.

User wants to get from the page of a politician to his funding sources page

A link will be in the page of the politician